Body in the river could be missing Luton man

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

POLICE say that a body found in the River Great Ouse in Bedford on New Year's Day appears to be that of missing Luton man Felix Yorke.

Felix, 25, of Butterworth Path, left work at the Top Man branch in Luton on November 30 at 5pm and has not been seen since.

A passing member of the public spotted the body in the water at The Embankment, near the junction with Shaftesbury Avenue and it was recovered during the afternoon.

The body has not yet been formally identified as detectives are awaiting the results of DNA and other tests to be absolutely certain.

But clothing and other items located with the man, would strongly suggest that it is Felix.

A post mortem has not yet identified the cause of his death and further tests are being done to establish how he died.

Felix had been reported as missing by his family on December 1 but none of the enquiries carried out so far have suggested why he would be in Bedford.

It's for this reason that officers have taken the unusual step of indicating the name of the dead person before a formal identification can be done. They hope that light can be shed on his last movements.

At present it is known that after Felix left work he caught a train at about 5.30pm from Luton Parkway station. His mobile telephone was last active at about 7pm that night.

On the same evening police con-TRIBUTE: Flowers and messages left at the site where a body was pulled out of the River Great Ouse by the police on Tuesday. It is believed to be that of Felix Yorke who is pictured, inset. He was reported missing by his family in December ducted a six hour search of the River Great Ouse in Bedford after reports of a 'loud splash'. Nothing was found and CCTV showed no evidence of anyone being in the water.

Following his disappearance, friends set up a Twitter campaign using the hashtag 'FindFelix', to try and find the whereabouts of the 25-year-old, while a YouTube video pleading for his return was published on December 5.

His website described him as an 'aspiring hip-hop artist' and included tracks called 'Never Say Surrender' and 'Goodbye For Now', which were uploaded just days before he was last seen.

Sgt Gavin Conder, who heads the Missing Persons Unit, said: "Understandably, Felix's family are desperate to know what has happened to him and assuming the outstanding identity checks prove it is him we have found, we are hoping that someone will know what he was doing in Bedford that night.

"If you have information about why he may have been in the area then please give us a call.

"You would be helping his family in achieving some peace of mind about his last hours."

Anyone who can help with information should contact Sgt Conder on 01234 275137.

The local Lib Dems decide not to follow central orders

THE leader of the Luton Liberal Democrats party has said they will not change their policy in response to a leaked memo from the party's headquarters.

Last week, Tim Snowball, the director of communications for the Lib Dems sent a letter urging members to consistently criticise the Conservative and Labour parties in their communications.

The memo told members to say that Labour 'can't be trusted to manage the economy' and the Conservatives 'can't be trusted to build a fair society'.

But Councillor Franks, who said he did not receive or see the e-mail, has said their policy will not change.

He said: "Unlike the Labour and Tory parties we do not play silly party games.

"I recall, for example, that when the then Liberal Democrat administration at the Town Hall built the new St George's Square the Labour leader criticised it and said she preferred the old one.

"She now thinks the new square is so good she has several times tried to claim the credit for building it.

"We have no time for such hypocritical double dealings.

"When either of the other parties say or do something sensible we are happy to support it."

Emergency calls near to doubling over Xmas

BY CARL MUNGASI
carl.mungasi@lutononsunday.co.uk

NEARLY 2,000 calls were made during the new year celebrations, the East of England Ambulance Service NHS Trust (EEAST) has revealed.

EEAST dealt with a total of 1,970 calls – double the number of an average night – at an average of more than 164 calls an hour.

And with each call costing in the region of £200, around £394,000 went towards attending incidents.

Although the numbers were marginally down on the previous year when the service received 1,989 calls within the same period, they represent more than double the number of incidents compared with the Monday and Tuesday four weeks previously.

People in Bedfordshire made 206 calls between 7pm on Monday and 7am on Tuesday. A further 113 calls were then made between 7pm on Tuesday and 7am on Wednesday.

EEAST control room and frontline staff responded to 893 calls and when the figures are compared to the first Saturday in December, when there were 1,087 calls, a significant rise in new year demand is evident.

The service also boosted resources to prepare for the night with joint initiatives such as 'see and treat' tents and SOS buses operating in town centres which helped with hospital admission avoidance.

Temporary minor injuries units were also used.

Ambulance bosses have asked people to consider learning how to save a life and understanding how the ambulance service prioritises and responds to calls.

Neil Story, director for emergency operations, said: "My thanks and praise go out to all our staff and volunteers who worked during this difficult shift.

"While a downward trend, however slight, is good news and a sign that perhaps people are taking note of our advice, it's still a very busy start to the year.

"For those calling 999 with a genuine medical problem but which isn't an emergency we would ask them to take note of our Right Call message which explains how calls are prioritised, like they are in A&E departments, to ensure the patients in most need get help first.

"Those not in life threatening situations should expect to wait longer for an ambulance response – which in some minor cases may be telephone advice – depending on their need as assessed using a comprehensive system by our highly trained clinical call handlers.

"We have dedicated clinical support desks in the control rooms to support patients with minor conditions as appropriately as possible without the need to send an ambulance."

Neil added that this time of reflection should hopefully inspire people to learn cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR).

He said: "Learning to save a life can mean that if someone near you collapses and is unconscious, your actions could make the difference between life and death."

Young volunteer wins award for his fundraising

A YOUNG volunteer has received a New Year award in return for his continuing dedication to the community.

Bradley Adams, 16, from Dunstable, has been named 'Best Young Volunteer' in the East of England at the vInspired National Awards, in recognition of his fundraising efforts to help a local girl with cancer.

The teenager is already a seasoned volunteer and has been raising cash for Lilly MacGlashan, who suffers from neuroblastoma, since he was 14-years-old.

He was inspired by a talk at school about Lilly's condition and has since made it his mission to raise as much as possible for her to receive a pioneering treatment in America.

In order to raise money, he has organised and performed in numerous big scale musical productions, and in the process set up his own charity production company, ONIT Productions.

Bradley said: "It's such an honour to be presented with this award.

"You don't volunteer to get awards – knowing you're helping people is enough motivation.

"But it's great to know that people appreciate what I do, and I hope that this might inspire other young people to give volunteering a go."

Terry Ryall, vInspired CEO said: "Bradley is a complete inspiration.

"He has displayed empathy for others and has shown great ability to build positive relationships whilst volunteering.

"He should be immensely proud of his achievements."

The annual vInspired National Awards celebrate the achievements of young volunteers and aim to challenge the negative attitudes towards young people.

The regional winners will be shortlisted to national finalists this month, with the overall winners revealed at an awards ceremony in March.

MAN CHARGED WITH GBH

Bedfordshire Police have charged a 28-year-old man with GBH following an assault in the Whitehouse Pub in Luton.

Leon Warner, of The Link in Houghton Regis, Dunstable, was charged by officers from the South Bedfordshire Serious Investigation Team in connection with an assault that happened on October 29, 2012.

Warner was released on bail and will appear before Luton Magistrates Court on January 16.

WOMAN TRICKS MAN IN ROBBERY

A motorist was ejected from his car and robbed after being lured into assisting a pedestrian.

The 30-year-old man was sitting in his car in Cheapside, Luton, on December 30 at 7pm when a woman approached him asking for help. When he wound down his window to speak to her, another man approached the car and threatened him with a knife.

The victim was then forced out of the car and two mobile phones were stolen.

Anyone with information should call Bedfordshire Police on 101.

MCDONALD'S REFURB GOES ON

A branch of fast-food chain McDonald's will remain closed for a number of weeks as refurbishing work has overrun.

bishing work has overrun.

The work on the premises in George Street, Luton, was expected to take five weeks and started in October 2012.

A spokesman for McDonald's said: "Hopefully customers will really notice the difference when we re-open, and it will have been worth the wait.

"We are installing a new kitchen and have extended so that there is more seating."

Two easyJet dramas bring in the new year

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

TWO dramatic landings were made at Luton Airport in the space of three days.

One easyJet pilot was forced to make an aborted landing, while another chose to make a diversion to the airport after getting into technical difficulties.

The first incident happened at around 12pm on Saturday, December 29, when a flight from Geneva to Luton was affected by high winds and torrential rain as it approached the runway.

As the plane began to descend to touch down, the pilot stopped the procedure, and decided to perform a 'go-around' and make a second attempt at landing.

One witness who saw the manoeuvre said: "I was at the airport taking weather related pictures when I photographed G-EZUJ coming in to land."

"The aircraft was observed from its final descent onto the runway shortly after midday."

"I was capturing the spray that always accompanies a wet landing and snapped away as the aircraft touched down."

"It landed, bounced, bounced again and then there was a huge noise as the pilot pushed the aircraft into an immediate take off."

"I have to assume, as the wind was gusting very hard, that there was a problem with 'wind sheer' or similar hence the emergency action taken by the pilot."

"The aircraft was airborne again almost immediately. They would normally take off further down the runway."

"After ten-15 minutes the aircraft returned to Luton making a proper landing with the windsock blowing out at right angles to the runway."

DOWN... and up again as aircraft does a 'go-around'

On New Year's Eve, a pilot had to take action for a second time after oil began leaking into one of the engines.

More than 150 passengers were onboard the plane, which was travelling from Geneva to Edinburgh, when the emergency landing was made.

It is thought that the plane was around Cambridge when the captain made the decision to take the diversion and land at Luton.

An easyJet spokesperson said: "On Saturday, the captain on G-ZEUJ took the decision to go-around as a precaution, and the plane landed routinely on its second approach."

"We can confirm that flight EZY6908 flying from Geneva to Edinburgh diverted to London Luton Airport on Monday due to a technical issue."

"Again, the captain took the decision to divert as a precaution only."

"The safety of our passengers and crew is our highest priority."

The 25-year-old victim was walking at the junction of Frederick Street and Old Bedford Road at around 2.30am when she confronted a man she believed was following her.

He replied that he was and when she tried to remove her mobile from her bag to phone for assistance the man grabbed her between her legs.

The woman then hit the assailant in the face but he held her hands and hit her back, before turning and walking back towards the town centre.

Bedfordshire Police said the assault has left the woman shocked.

Detective Constable Mike Robinson, who is investigating, is keen to trace anyone who saw what happened or anyone who can help identify the man involved.

He said: "We believe this man may have been hanging around in St George's Square prior to following the victim and I would urge anyone who was out on New Year's Eve and can help identify the man responsible or anyone who saw the incident to come forward and speak with officers."

Anyone with information can contact DC Robinson, in confidence, on 01582 394312 or Bedfordshire Police on 101.

Luton HIV rate is highest in region

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

ONE in four people living with HIV in Luton is unaware of it, new figures revealed this week.

And the number of people living with the disease in the town is nearly three times the national average according to figures from the Health Protection Agency (HPA).

The data means the town has the highest number of people in the East of England living with HIV, with 534 individuals diagnosed as having the disease.

Deborah Jack, chief executive of the National AIDS Trust (NAT), said the lack of awareness coupled with high infection rates meant that 'new infections will continue to occur'.

She also called for an increased understanding of the disease and tackling the stigma attached to it.

Just over four out of every 1,000 people in the town live with HIV, whilst nationally the number is 1.5 in 1,000.

Furthermore, nearly 60 per cent of people living in Luton with HIV have been diagnosed late, and this has potentially serious implications on their long term health.

Ms Jack said: "Luton has the highest rates of HIV in the East of England and a quarter of people with HIV are unaware they have the virus.

"As long as this figure remains high, new infections will continue to occur. To tackle this problem and the stigma still attached to the virus, we must increase understanding about HIV – how it's passed on and how people can protect themselves and others.

"It's crucial for people living in Luton to be aware of the facts about HIV and know how and where to get a free, confidential test if they've put themselves at risk.

"It's also really important for our local councils to continue investing in HIV prevention work when they take over public health budgets next year.

"What is striking about the HPA's data, is how it really shows both our successes and our shortcomings in tackling HIV in the UK.

"On the one hand, we can hail treatment as a real success story. Treatment is effective, people diagnosed with HIV can access it easily and it is working in keeping the virus under control.

"However, when it comes to increasing the uptake of testing – the gateway to treatment – our services are patchy, inconsistent and ultimately we are still failing to make any significant headway in tackling the high rates of undiagnosed HIV."

A report published last year by the HPA estimated that at the end of 2011, 96,000 people in the UK were living with HIV, with the highest infection rates reported among homosexual men and the black African community.

It also showed that 24 per cent of people in the UK living with the disease did not know it.

Armed robber is sent to jail

AN ARMED robber who disguised himself with a bandana and sunglasses has been sentenced to eight years in prison.

Mark Crawford, 25, from Eldon Road, Luton was convicted of having an imitation firearm with intent, robbery and having a knife.

Crawford had been charged by officers of the South Bedfordshire Robbery Unit, for offences which happened in Parkside Drive and Sandringham Drive, Houghton Regis, in April 2012.

During the trial the jury had heard how he stole mobile phones and an iPod whilst armed with a knife and an imitation firearm. His youngest victim was 14-years-old.

Detective Constable Rebecca Kitts said: "There is no doubt that Crawford is a violent man who used weapons to make his victims fear him. We are very pleased with this sentencing. It means the public will be safe from this man for many years."

New Year honours for local heroes

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

MEMBERS of Bedfordshire Police staff, an ex-ambulance service boss, and a superintendent at the Royal Veterinary College were among those who received awards in the New Year's Honours list.

Detective Superintendent Nigel Stone was awarded an MBE, while Head of Scientific Services, Richard Johnson was honoured with an OBE.

Mr Stone, 55, has been a police officer for 28 years, and has worked in serious crime investigations, the missing persons' unit and the online investigations team.

He said: "I am very humbled to receive this MBE, as it reflects not just my own work but more importantly, the huge amount of work done in Bedfordshire by the police and our partners across the country."

Mr Johnson, 54, has been awarded the OBE for pioneering the delivery of scientific services to fight crime and protect the public. The units he oversees include fingerprints, scenes of crime and imagery.

Richard said: "I feel the honour is as much for forensic services

GONGS: Richard Johnson and Nigel Stone both recognised for their work and the teams which contribute to it as a whole in Beds, Herts and Cambs, as it is for me."

Also honoured was former head of the East of England ambulance service, Hayden Newton, who became one of the first ever recipients of the Queen's Ambulance Service Medal for Distinguished Service (QAM).

A maximum of four people per year are picked to receive the award, which was introduced this January.

The citation noted his 'dedication to helping patients at the time of most need and reducing call times nationally', and also his role as the national ambulance lead for the 2012 Olympics.

Mr Newton said: "I am absolutely delighted to receive this award and want to thank everyone who has supported me throughout my time in the ambulance service."

Departmental Superintendant Vivienne Heys from Luton was also honoured in the list.

She was awarded an OBE for services to Higher Educational and Animal Health.

Former lawyer given community service

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A 'LAWYER' has been sentenced to 200 hours of community service after failing to give information to council officers investigating a landlord.

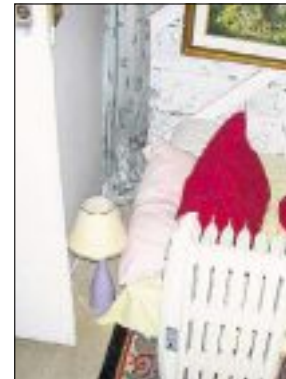

Michael Harvey, of Harvey Law in Luton, was found guilty on four charges of obstructing council trading standards officers who were investigating Khaled Ahmed, who has gone missing after being fined £52,957 for letting out a 'death trap' house.

Council investigations revealed that Harvey, who was struck off as a solicitor in 2003, was acting for the landlord and agents for the property concerned.

But when asked to produce relevant documents by a trading standards officer, Harvey refused and claimed legal privilege. He then claimed he did not have the documents.

At Luton Magistrates' Court, Mr Harvey argued that he was not covered by the legislation and the actions of council officers were 'disproportionate'.

However, the judge described his version of events as 'incredible' and rejected his claims, including his assertion that he had the same legal privilege rights as registered solicitors.

Councillor Mohammed Ashraf, portfolio holder for trading standards, said: "Council trading standards officers have a range of powers to deal with criminal offences. Anyone deliberately obstructing a council officer in the course of their work risks legal action and a criminal record."

Harvey has also been ordered to pay £500 council prosecution costs in addition to his community service.

Earlier this year a number of health and safety breaches were found following an inspection by the council of Mr Ahmed's property at 35, Dunraven Avenue.

Officers found a young female student living in the attic space, which could only be accessed by an unstable staircase, without windows, ventilation or heating. Other hazards related to obstructed fire exits, accumulations of rubbish, lack of fire doors, and lack of fire alarms and disrepair to the property.

Furthermore, the officers discovered that the property was operating without a licence and it had been altered internally, causing a number of potentially fatal fire safety hazards.

Some of the existing bedrooms had been poorly sub-divided to gain additional smaller bedrooms so more people could live there. One bedroom measured just five square metres.

Mr Ahmed was fined £15,000 for failing to license the property, a further £4,000 for each of the nine breaches of the Management of House in Multiple Occupation Regulations 2006 which totalled a further £36,000 and a £15 victim surcharge. The council was also awarded £1,957 costs.

Total fines and costs amounted to £52,957, which is one of the highest fines recorded in Luton.

What is the point in it all?

SIR – The government is launching another anti-smoking campaign.

The advert shows a tumour growing on the cigarette.

We are not stupid. Everyone knows the health risks that come with smoking.

So why do we carry on smoking? There are lots of stupid things that we do in our lives, like working for 50-odd years and seeing your private pension eroding away.

No matter how hard you work, it's all taken away from you, to pay the bills.

Then when you retire, at maybe 100-years-old, you can't afford to keep your heating on, so you die of hypothermia.

Maybe that's why people keep smoking. What is the point in anything?

Happy New Year.

John Tucker,
Bracklesham Gardens, Luton

Film-makers need crew

SIR – Local production company Absurd is looking for cast and crew to feature in a short art film.

The film entitled 'The Kiss' is based on a short story by Guy De Maupassant.

To make the project work, we require two actresses, a camera person, sound designer, set designer, makeup person and hairdresser, music composer, production manager and marketing manager.

Take a New Year challenge

SIR – As we return to our normal day-to-day routines following the Christmas festivities, why not add something a little different to your life this year by resolving to take a personal challenge?

At Independent Age, 2013 isn't just a new year for us. It marks our 150-year anniversary of supporting older people in need.

To celebrate this, we are asking 150 people to raise money by taking on a personal challenge, which will help us to continue to provide information, advice and support for older people.

This is your challenge, so what you do is completely up to you.

You can choose something from the array of experiences we've suggested, such as taking a tandem skydive, running 10km dressed as your favourite superhero or even trekking the Great Wall of China.

Whatever you choose, we'll support you every step of the way to make sure your challenge is something you'll never forget.

You can rest assured in the knowledge that it will be a huge achievement in more ways than one.

To find out more about Independent Age's Challenge 150, visit www.independentage.org, or call 020 7605 4287.

Book error to be changed

SIR – I am writing to say thank you to everyone who has purchased my recently published book One Man's Treasure (Colin's Collection – a Luton Miscellany) about my late husband Colin Cook.

Unfortunately it has been pointed out to me by a friend that they have a copy that has a printing error.

They discovered the book has pages up to page 96 and then reverts again to the section starting at page 57 with the back section of the book missing.

Please will everyone check that their copy is correct and if anyone has a book that has a similar error I would be grateful if they would let me know. I will certainly replace their copy.

They can contact me at gcook41@tiscali.co.uk or by ringing 01582 735218.

Help out guide dogs charity

SIR – I am asking people to save their Christmas stamps and donate any unwanted presents to help raise money for Guide Dogs for the Blind charity.

Although many of you have sent me hundreds of stamps and postcards already, I still asked everyone to send in stamps to support this very good cause.

Unwanted presents can also be sent in to be used towards raising money through raffles and tombolas, and anyone who received a new mobile phone can send their old one to help the charity too.

All items can be sent to David Staples, 14 Kingsnorth Road, Twydall, Gillingham, Kent, ME8 6QY.

A GIFT bought me recently was a book entitled '1001 books you must read before you die'.

Instead of inspiring me to read all those books, which I confess if I haven't already got quite a few under my belt, will be rather difficult to achieve, it made me think more of the absurdity of it.

What is the point of reading all those books and then dying?

All I am going to do is read, admittedly mainly great works of art, and digest all the knowledge, history, philosophy, humanity, laughter and sorrow before popping my clogs.

A waste of all that learning and a waste of a life if that is all I have done.

Better to write a thousand books, a bit difficult, I realize, or have a thousand adventures, see a thousand places, have a thousand wild nights out.

Don't get me wrong, I love reading and my tastes are very catholic (unlike my religion - or lack of it) but the theme and title of the book strikes me as slightly depressing and counter-productive.

Or maybe I am being over-sensitive on what is little more than a gimmick to sell a book that takes no writing and not much imagination.

If I do read 1001 books, one of them will not be '1001 books you must read before you die'.

WE enter the new year with the Conservatives renewing their Best to live large and dream small attack on the poor, working and non-working.

First Iain Duncan Smith, Secretary of State for Work and Pensions, attacks the tax credit system for working people who do not earn very much. He wants it dramatically reduced or even abolished because it is open to widespread abuse. That is a novel idea. Income tax is open to widespread abuse and corporation tax a joke for many companies, so shall we abolish them?

Closer to home the most widespread abuse of public money in recent years was the expenses claims of MPs.

Why did we not simply get rid of expenses? That would have saved a lot of money, been highly popular and not affected the poorer people in our society one jot.

The fact is a lot of less well off people, often single parents, prefer to go out to work, rather than sitting at home completely dependent on the state. But reducing or taking away their tax credits will force them to do just that.

Then of course they will find themselves on state benefit, which the Government wants to reduce in real terms.

Some Tories are even wondering if benefits should be paid out at all. Bring back the workhouse will be the next cry. I bet the Lib Dems are enjoying giving these politicians their full support and keeping them in power.

Could the Conservatives explain how economically it makes sense to force people from work on to the dole and how morally it makes sense to make the poor in our society yet poorer?

THIS looks like being a year of troubled times for Luton. Or it could be one of great opportunities.

Cuts in council services and attendant job cuts are certainly on the way. And the way this Government operates means councils with less well-off communities, such as Luton, are hit the hardest. But the people of Luton have always been fighters and have always shown great resilience. So come on Luton!

BY STEVE LOWE
editor@lbnmedia.co.uk

WHEN I was a young boy my hero of choice was Zorro. So much so that I even had my own Zorro outfit complete with mask and sword.

Half the trees in mid Bedfordshire had a 'Z' marked on them.

It was therefore with great excitement that I approached my latest venture into sport for the over 60s – fencing!

There is something incredibly noble and historic about this sport and I had visions of me dancing around gracefully like a mature Mr Darcy.

Unfortunately, as is so often the case, by the time I had donned the facial guard I looked more like Hannibal Lecter.

A lot of protective clothing is required and there is also a special outfit for those who wish to take it up seriously as a sport.

Anyway vanity aside I met my instructor for the session, Russ Leith, who runs the Bedford Fencing Club at the John Bunyan Centre.

Russ himself didn't take up the sport until he was in his early 50s about ten years ago, although like me as a Zorro fan, it was a sport he had at the back of his mind since a child.

"I came across some second-hand fencing equipment in the paper going cheap and decided that I might as well give it a go," he said.

COMBAT READY: James, trainer Russ and Steve

Russ is now the beginners' instructor at the club and occasionally competes in open competitions. As I found out later, he is very good.

I was with another first-timer, aged a mere 15, who was hoping to take up the sport much more seriously than me.

To begin with we had to warm up, as the muscles can easily strain and ligaments tear. Then it was a good deal of training before we were allowed to hold a sword, sorry foil. The hardest part is to stand with your legs bent and at right-angles. Then you learn to move back and forth like a crab, or for the more graceful, a spider.

After an hour of training we were allowed to play. There are quite a lot of rules about what you can and cannot do, such as where you can hit your opponent and I showed more aggression than grace. At one point Russ said I would be better off with a sabre, but I am not sure what he meant by that. He ran us through the paces of how to move forward, move back, strike or lunge, and parry.

It looked easy when he did it but you need both a quick brain and a quick eye, as well as a fair degree of suppleness and fitness.

He parried all my attempts to land my foil on him, with an ease that had me almost charging him.

After training the young lad, James and I had a proper contest. We were not wired up as that is a bit complicated for not be easily foiled

LUNGE: Steve Lowe and James duelling, watched by trainer Russ

beginners, so Russ took the score. It was great fun and combines grace, athleticism, power and good manners, as we were unerringly polite as we tried to stab each other.

Of the sports I have undertaken so far it is undoubtedly the most energetic and uses muscles in places I did not know I even had. It is a thoroughly enjoyable sport that ticks all the boxes.

I did tolerably well as a beginner but will never be the most graceful of swordsmen.

I made up for that with enthusiasm and aggression and can now return to mid Beds and write 'Steve Lowe was here' on a few trees.

I might even be up to saving a few damsels in distress if the county can still boast of any damsels.

Beginners use a foil as they are lighter and more flexible and the target area is smaller.

The more advanced play is with epees and sabres. It is a very courteous sport with handshakes and etiquette but due to the sweating - four layers of clothes and lots of stretching - a great low impact way of getting fit.

"This is an ideal sport for all ages," said Russ. "We have members from ten to 70 plus and we compete in 'bouts' against one another and at our level the men and women compete together too. It's a great sport as you don't get wet or dirty and you can take it at your own speed and level."

I cannot recommend it highly enough as a way of keeping fit, competing in a highly specialised sport and meeting and making new friends. They even go for a beer afterwards.

I may take it up myself.

Fact Box:

Steve's sporting sessions are organised by Get Back Into. The project is run mainly by team BEDS&LUTON County Sports Partnership to help people 16 and over to get back into or take up a new sport. THE UK'S LARGEST FAMILY CYCLE CHAIN

Review of the year

JANUARY

A PROMISING footballer was facing an uncertain future as he was waiting to hear whether he would be granted permanent UK residency.

Janoi Donacien, who plays for Aston Villa, had lived in Luton with his family since arriving from St Lucia in 2001, but had been waiting more than four years for officials to make a decision on their immigration status.

AN ILLEGAL immigrant and sham marriage ringleader was given £1,500 of taxpayers' money to leave prison early and be deported from the UK – and used the money to set up a visa agency in Pakistan.

Ashar Ali Rathore, formerly of Luton, was paid under a Government support scheme for foreign nationals as an incentive for prisoners to return home at the earliest opportunity.

DAVID Clairmonte, 26, was given a life sentence in prison, after being found guilty of the brutal murder of pensioner Frederick Hodsdon.

The jury heard that Mr Hodsdon, who was aged 69 at the time, was bound with electrical tape and hit with a hammer in the attack at his home in Vespers Close, Luton.

FEBRUARY

LUTON North MP, Kelvin Hopkins was out canvassing in Dunstable, three years before the next election – sparking a row with the town's Tory MP.

The Labour MP wanted to target the town's voters ahead of the election in 2015, by which time new constituency boundary change proposals could see the area 'swallowed up' and become part of Mr Hopkins' patch.

Current South West Beds Tory MP Andrew Selous, described the canvassing as 'premature.'

JAIL terms handed to two men who had sex with an 11-year-old girl while the act was filmed were blasted as 'among the worst sentencing ever'. The Crown Prosecution Service appealed and the 40-month prison terms of Ruben Monteiro of Bailey Street, Luton, and Roshane Channer, of no fixed abode, were increased to seven years each.

DISABLED mother Carly Hammett, 32, claimed that she was left in the cold when a cab driver refused to put her wheelchair in his car unless she paid him an extra £5. Central Bedfordshire Council said they would investigate the incident.

MARCH

SARAH Allen, leader of Luton In Harmony, said that she felt 'betrayed' by the programme makers of 'Proud and Prejudiced', saying that the 'town had been trashed again'.

The hour long documentary spent a year with both EDL leader Stephen Lennon and Islamic extremist Sayful Islam, but Sarah said that film of positive events in the town had been discarded in favour of more controversial footage.

A TEACHER who was employed at Ashcroft High School pleaded guilty to daubing graffiti on a car and garage of a colleague after their love affair ended.

Alison Goodchild, had been sleeping with a married teacher, but when he broke off the affair she began a four-month campaign of harassment, which included sending takeaways to his home and arranging for an estate agent to value his property.

LUTON failed in its bid to be crowned a city in celebration of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, losing out to St Asaph, Chelmsford and Perth. Leader of the council Hazel Simmons, said that the result was 'disappointing'.

APRIL

AN INVESTIGATION by Luton on Sunday revealed that half of Luton's Liberal Democrat councillors had shown up to less than three quarters of meetings.

The research into attendances found that of the bottom ten, five were Lib Dems.

CROOKED Bedfordshire Police worker, Jonpaul Pasqualone, was jailed for seven years after taking a mugshot from his force which ended up on Facebook with the claim that the man pictured was a police informant.

Within hours of the picture appearing on the site, drug dealer Domenico Masciopinto – the man shown in the picture – had been shot by a gunman.

LUTON on Sunday discovered that

PROTEST: The English Defence League marched through Luton

scouts would not be able to hold their St George's Day parade in Luton town centre as they could not afford the £2,000 administration costs – two weeks before taxpayers footed a £1m-plus bill for an English Defence League march.

IT WAS decided that former Luton South MP Margaret Moran would not have to face a jury on charges of fiddling her Parliamentary expenses after a judge determined that she was not fit to plead.

Forensic psychiatrist Phillip Joseph stated that Ms Moran was a 'broken woman' and was suffering from a depressive illness, extreme anxiety and agitation.

MAY

THE planned English Defence League march through Luton passed without any major incident.

A counter-demonstration organised by 'We Are Luton' takes place at the same time.

Police officers from all over the country were called to the town for the day to prevent any trouble.

A WOMAN with dementia was left on a council minibus overnight.

The 80-year-old should have been taken back to her flat at Jill Jenkind Court after attending Jockwell Ring Day Centre, but was left on the bus for 14 hours at the Luton Borough Council's Kingsway depot.

LUTON Town Football Club are consigned to a fourth season in the Conference after losing in the play-off final to York City at Wembley in front of a crowd of almost 40,000.

Andre Gray gave the Hatters the lead in under two minutes, but Ashley Chambers equalised, and the Minstermen won with a controversial goal.

Managing Director Gary Sweet said that the defeat had cost the club around £1m.

A £25,000 REWARD was offered for the safe return of the Wenlok Jug, pictured right.

The 700-year-old historic artefact was stolen from Stockwood Discovery Centre.

Bedfordshire police appeared on Crimewatch to appeal for the return of the much-loved jug.

JUNE

SHOCKING statistics reveal that children as young as four are committing serious crimes, including common assault and arson endangering life.

Of a total of 59 crimes committed by under nines across the county, 33 took place in either Luton or Dunstable.

AN INVESTIGATION was launched after a Luton Borough Council CCTV parking enforcement van was spotted parked on double yellow lines.

A SHOP owner said he was 'living in fear' after he was held at gunpoint during an armed robbery.

CCTV footage showed a hooded intruder pointing a handgun at Mohammed Faruk Baksh, during a robbery of the Maksud Store in Strathmore Avenue, Luton.

Mr Baksh said that his shop had been targeted over recent years.

JULY

A 16-YEAR-OLD who suffered a potentially life-threatening burst appendix booked a cab to take him to hospital after a 999 operator was unsure whether to send an ambulance.

Richard Lewis, of Butterworth Path, Luton, called the emergency services but was told that his condition was not serious enough to warrant an ambulance. He needed emergency surgery after it was discovered that his appendix was gangrenous.

Review of the year

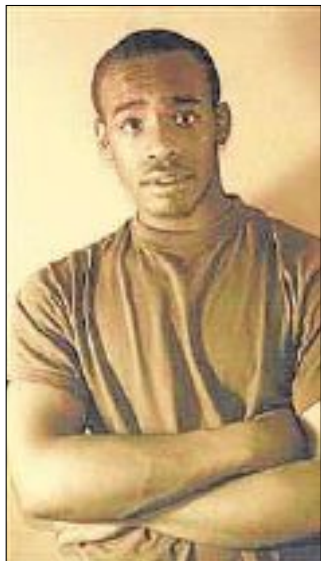

JULY (continued)

THE Love Luton festival took place in Wardown Park and Pope's Meadow.

Revellers were treated to the sounds of The Wanted and Olly Murs during the three-day event to coincide with the Olympic Torch Relay.

F1 driver Lewis Hamilton carried the torch through Luton.

THE Hertfordshire NHS Trust was fined and ordered to pay £500k for

VICTIM: Delaney Brown who was killed in a hit-and-run incident in September placing a bipolar sufferer in a care home, where he went on to stab a female care worker.

Kathleen Bainbridge, of Farley Hill, Luton died after being stabbed by Stephen Platt. It was later found that the trust breached health and safety regulations by not carrying out a proper risk assessment before he was transferred to the care home in Dunstable.

A LUTON-BORN mum went on the run with her son after being ordered to leave the country by the High Court.

Marie Roche, 33, fled Lanzarote with her son to escape a relationship that she claims was abusive, but was told she must return to the island, under a European Law, called the Hague Abduction Convention.

AUGUST

RESIDENTS from Bushmead gathered to express their opposition at Barnfield College's plans for expansion.

The group expressed their fears that they would lose their much-loved playing-field under the proposals, as well as raising concerns about an increase in traffic.

Barnfield College later pulled its plans.

A PIZZA-LOVER was horrified to discover a spider which had been cooked into her takeaway meal.

Theresa Davis had ordered the treat from Pizza Hut delivery, but discovered the unwanted addition to her meal when she began to tuck in.

A COUNCIL tenant claimed that she was 'living in fear' because the police were not taking enough action over people using her garden to hide guns and weapons.

The woman, who lives near Addington Way, said she had discovered knives, sharpened screwdrivers and packets containing unknown powder.

SEPTEMBER

IT WAS revealed that the Love Luton Festival made a loss of £344,000.

A document highlighting the costs for the event cited the English Defence League, poor weather, and local media coverage as part of the reasons for affecting the event's promotion.

It was also discovered that the artistic director of the event, Robert Lee, was paid £50,000 for his work.

A MURDER investigation was launched following the death of 19-year-old Delaney Brown, pictured left, in a hit-and-run.

The teenager was hit by a car in Vincent Road and died at the scene. Kyle Beckford, 22, of Waleys Close, Luton was charged with the murder and will appear at Luton Crown Court this year.

THE Wenlok Jug was found in Surrey after a nationwide search.

Karen Perkins, the director of Wardown Park Museum said that staff had felt like the theft was a 'personal attack' on themselves, and that they were delighted to have the jug back.

Review of the year

OCTOBER

LUTON Borough Council warned residents that cuts in services over the next few years will be 'way worse' than first thought.

It was revealed that the authority would have to save £48m by 2016, with Chief Executive Trevor Holden admitting that the number of people who would lose their jobs would be significant.

MCDONALD'S in George Street, Luton was closed after the council found the property to have 'cockroach activity'.

The authority was first alerted to the problem when a diner contacted Luton on Sunday, after spotting the insect crawling up one of the walls.

POLISH football fans were banned from a pub during their country's

Cockroaches not on the menu match with England after management were warned of possible trouble. The White House pub in St George's Square, Luton, had a sign outside saying 'England Fans Only' ahead of the game.

PARALYMPIAN Jonnie Peacock and the Duke of Kent were guests of honour at the official opening of the Inspire Sports Village.

The visitors were treated to a tour of the £26m facility and a diving display.

Prince Edward said that the centre was 'the best he had ever seen'.

NOVEMBER

AN INVESTIGATION was launched after a home care provider emailed sensitive information about vulnerable adults to a woman who didn't work for the company.

Carewatch, which provides services on behalf of Luton Borough Council sent a rota, which included names, addresses and what type of care they needed to a woman from Elstow, Bedford.

MP NADINE Dorries swapped her Mid Bedfordshire constituency for the Australian jungle, after deciding to take part in 'I'm A Celebrity Get Me Out Of Here!'

The decision caused huge controversy and resulted in her being suspended by the Chief Whip, Sir George Young. Ms Dorries was the first contestant to be booted out of the celebrity jungle.

LABOUR candidate Olly Martins was elected Bedfordshire's first Police and Crime Commissioner with 35,958 votes.

It was found that more than 2,500 ballot papers in Mid Bedfordshire were spoilt with abuse aimed at absent MP Nadine Dorries, which affected Tory candidate Jas Parmar, who came second.

Controversial British Freedom Party candidate Kevin Carroll received 8,675 votes.

UNION members urged Luton Borough Council to 'stand up to the Government' as proposals to cut the budgets for highway maintenance, school transport and uniform grants, were sent to consultation.

Labour councillor Dave Taylor said that the authority 'didn't have a choice'.

DECEMBER

AN ANGRY 'whistleblower' con-

TOUGH TIME: Nadine Dorries, MP for Mid Bedfordshire, looking tired in the jungle

ducted a leaflet-drop to make parents aware of a child sex offender mother who enters school premises every day to pick up her child.

The unknown person distributed handouts in the area of Waulud Bank Primary School about the woman, which detailed her four convictions, which included three counts of making indecent photos of a child.

VAUXHALL announced that one in ten of their workers from Luton's plant would leave at the end of the year after accepting voluntary redundancy deals.

A decline in demand on mainland Europe for cars means that the plant planned a move to a single shift of production.

FORMER Labour MP Margaret Moran was handed a two-year supervision and treatment order for fiddling expenses of more than £53,000 from the taxpayer.

The Taxpayers' Alliance made calls for civil action to be taken against the MP to recoup some of the money.

WINNER: Olly Martins becomes the county's first PCC

INSPIRED: The Duke of Kent meets athletes at the Inspire Sports Village

KINGS WALDEN RD, GREAT OFFLEY, HERTS (FREEHOUSE) Follow us on facebook

On the 27th January 2013 we will be welcoming Bipin to our kitchen to delight you with his authentic Indian cuisine. We have tried his wonderful cooking during an excellent evening where a few of us were in the kitchen being shown how he does it. The food was so good we have invited him back to produce a two course menu, so if you enjoy your food, especially something a bit different book now as places are limited.

On the 26th January we will be having the first of our charity quiz nights in aid of the Sue Ryder Homes. This charity is now the Red Lion's chosen charity for six months as the Landlord (Jason) is running his first London Marathon through a charity place. There will also be other events taking place in the next few months to raise money for this worth while cause, raffles, guess the time, guess the sweets, Beer Festival/Fun Weekend 21st-24th March. There will be updates on the Red Lion's facebook page. Like us and friend us on facebook to get regular updates.

Finally we would like to say a big thank you to all our customers and friends for your support over the past 10 years and wish you all a very happy and prosperous new year.

Cheers again, Jason, Louise, Josh and Megan

Enjoy trains and railways in miniature at weekend model show

EXHIBITION

MODEL RAILWAY EXHIBITION
The Alban Arena, St Albans
Open next Saturday and Sunday

A MODEL railway exhibition will bring to life the magic of trains in miniature next weekend.

The CMRA exhibition includes many demonstration and trade stands enabling you to see and talk to experts showing various modelling techniques and purchase goods to enable you to start on or enhance your own layout.

With more than 20 working layouts not seen before at The Alban Arena and in many scales, you can enjoy the fascinating world of railways in model form.

It's not just the railways that are interesting but also the settings in which they run.

Each layout captures a location at a moment in time and each presents a different three dimensional photograph.

It will be an enthralling day out for both railway enthusiasts and those with an eye for things in miniature.

It is an outing to be enjoyed by all the family and a free vintage bus service will operate between St Albans City and Abbey Stations and the Arena.

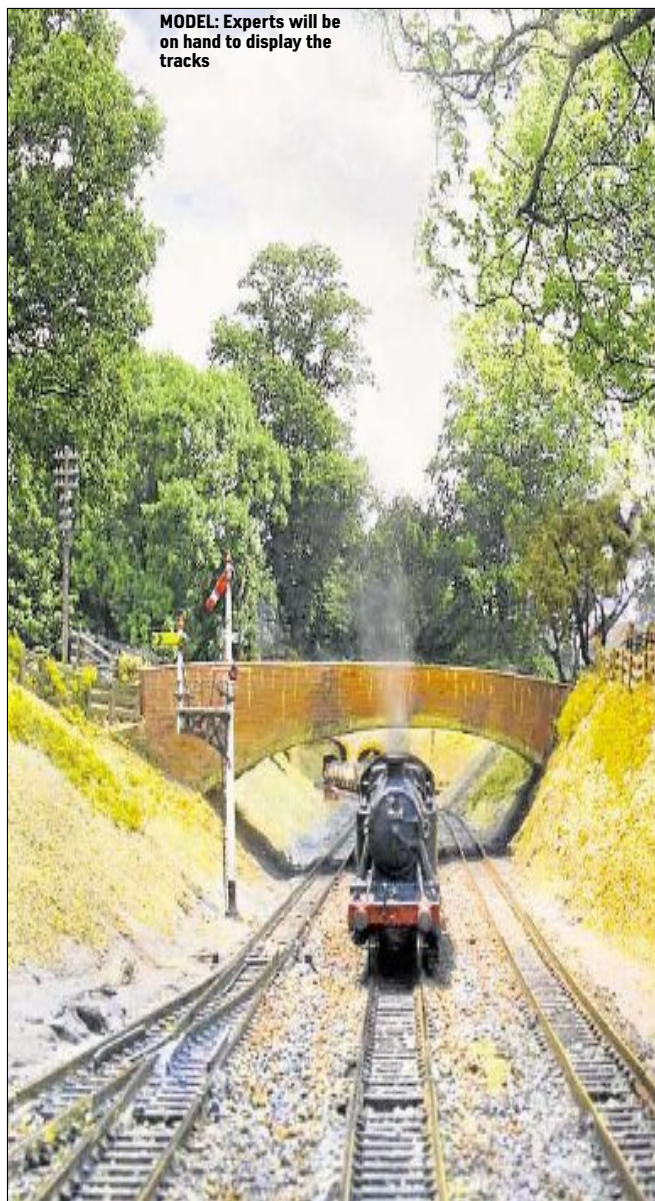

Please note that the exhibition uses all the available space in the Arena and that only the ground floor is accessible without using stairs.

Tickets for the event will cost £7 for adults and this includes a colour programme.

Two children aged between five-16 receive free admission with each adult.

Additional or unaccompanied children pay £3 and there is also free admission for people with critically impaired mobility.

Call 01727 844488 for bookings.

MODEL: Experts will be on hand to display the tracks

HEALTH

LUTON HOO OPEN DAY
Luton Hoo Hotel, Luton
Next Sunday, 11am-5pm

LUTON Hoo Hotel, Golf & Spa is hosting an open day to showcase its leisure facilities in an event that will be ideal for those wanting to hit the new year running after perhaps over-indulging a little in turkey and all the trimmings!

The hotel is throwing open its doors to local residents next Sunday and offering people the chance to see the range of amenities available, win prizes and take part in special promotions.

During the day there will be mini-taster treatments, and vouchers for 20 per cent off a future treatment.

The leisure team will be on hand to talk to guests about individual health and fitness goals.

They will also provide information on a wide range of golf, tennis, running and general fitness programmes to suit individual needs.

Luton Hoo's country club is housed in the historic Grade II listed former stable block.

Facilities on site include an indoor infinity pool overlooking the woods, hydrotherapy pool, heat therapy suite and a high-tech gym.

Treatments in the adjoining spa feature specially blended organic products that have been inspired by Luton Hoo's historic garden and include ingredients such as geranium, camomile, rosemary and fennel essential oils.

There will also be a free competition to win two prizes of a leisure day pass for four people and a golf four-ball.

Plus, promotions will be available for visitors who sign up for membership on the day, including 15 months for the price of 12 and no joining fee.

Admission to the day is complimentary and refreshments include fruit smoothies, tea and healthy canapés washed down with champagne.

For further information on the day, or the facilities, call 01582 698856.

Bruce Foxton's From The Jam deliver the classic hits in style

MUSIC

FROM THE JAM

The Carnival Arts Centre, Luton
Saturday, January 19, 7.30pm

FROM the Jam is a band led by bassist/singer Bruce Foxton, one of the original members of the punk/mod/new wave trio.

When the band split in 1982 Bruce left to embark on a solo career and he had a hit with 'Freak', as well as collaborating with various other musicians.

Later on he joined Stiff Little Fingers and recorded four albums during his 15-year stint with the rock band.

Foxton is joined by Russell Hastings on lead vocals and guitar in From the Jam. Russell grew up listening to The Jam and this is evident in his authentic playing style.

Completing the powerful trio is Mark Brzezicki, the rock drummer who is primarily known for his work with Big Country and is a former member of groups including The Cult, Ultravox, and Procol Harum.

Together the band create an interpretation of The Jam's classic back catalogue, performing hits like Start, Town called Malice, Precious, That's Entertainment, Funeral Pyre, The Butterfly Collector, In The City, Eton Rifles, Beat Surrender, Bitterest Pill and Going Underground.

The Jam had amazing chart success with 18 singles and seven albums to make the top 40 in the United Kingdom from their debut in 1977 to their break up in 1982.

Their last five albums were all top ten hits and their last eight singles made it into the top ten.

Tickets cost £20 and you can purchase them from the UK Centre For Carnival Arts Box Office or by calling 01582 876391.

Performers needed for Cali' musical

BALLROOM CALIFORNIA

The Hat Factory
Monday, January 14, 5pm-8.30pm

OLYMPIAN Productions, in association with The Hat Factory, need performers and staff for a new musical about Dunstable's music venue, The California Ballroom.

Set in the 1960s, this story is based around the love affair between Pearl and Oscar and how their romance starts and blossoms at The California Ballroom.

Like the rest of her generation, Pearl adores music and dancing but her strict parents have other plans for Pearl as they desperately want her to take a different path and succeed in life.

Ballroom California is based on the true local story of a music venue which, at its peak in the 1960s, had stars performing on its stage including

The Rolling Stones.

Olympian Productions is looking for ten actors, one choreographer and two assistant stage managers.

These roles are expenses only and travel. Expenses of up to £100 for actors and up to £150 for the creative team roles will be paid.

The audition is on Monday, January 14 with call backs on the following day.

All subsequent rehearsals will be held every Tuesday and Wednesday between January 22 and March 13 at The Hat Factory, with some Saturday rehearsals as well.

To apply for any of the stage roles send your head shot and CV to kerrieduggan@yahoo.co.uk or oluwatoyin.odunsi@lutonculture.com.

For the roles of stage manager and choreographer please send a CV clearly stating your previous experience and a covering letter of why you would like to be involved.

Call The Hat Factory on 01582 878100 for more details.

Heads You Win

Hair Salon, has recently celebrated a 25 YEAR ANNIVERSARY

Sisters Karen & Suzanne opened the doors to their salon in 1987 thanks to the faith their parents had in their ability.

Their Father transformed what was an estate agents into a salon within weeks ready for the Christmas rush. The girls may have been very young at the time but, both agree that their success is due to their hard work and the loyal client base they have built up.

They say they have had some wonderful talented team members over the years too. One, Tracy Ely moved to New York where she paid the girls the huge compliment of naming her own salon after theirs!

The salon on Dunstable Road has recently undergone a refurbishment thanks to Kevin Ellingham who was so generous and worked tirelessly to transform it into a beautiful modern place where clients can relax and be pampered. The girls say this is just what their clients deserve.

They were overwhelmed by the generosity shown to them on their anniversary. The cards, gifts, flowers & messages of support they received made them realise that all their hard work has not only given them the best clients around but these people have become friends along the way.

“They are truly thankful to past and present clients and staff for their support & say they hope to continue to work hard at this standard for many years to come!”

Research and Enterprise Directorate Project Manager (2 Posts)

(Internal, Public and Third Sector Projects; and Private Sector Projects)

Ref: NARE4114

Grade £31,020

Full-time, Permanent

Luton (Putteridge Bury Campus)

The Knowledge Hub is the University of Bedfordshire's gateway to business support services, offering organisations of all sizes the chance to develop and grow. High quality training and development is at the heart of what we do – delivering short courses, professional development programmes and bespoke courses. We're an accredited training organisation for PRINCE 2, Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development, CompTIA and the Chartered Management Institute.

We also provide consultancy services and business networking, giving businesses access to our leading applied research.

By working with business, the public sector and social enterprises across the South East Midlands, the Knowledge Hub helps organisations become more innovative and achieve sustainable growth.

Our range of services includes:

- business growth support including projects and funding from Europe and central and local Government
- enterprise services, including Intellectual Property advice and business mentoring
- support for start-ups and new business ideas, such as the acclaimed 'Basics of Building a Business' series – offering entrepreneurs the chance to learn essential from business practitioners.
- experts and researchers at the University delivering expertise through consultancy
- first class conference venue and conference organising services
- easy access to state-of-the-art facilities from confocal microscopes to media production studios
- access to high-calibre graduates through the short term placements and cutting-edge research
- a business networking group, the Knowledge Network, for coverage of the latest developments in business, science and computer technology and excellent opportunities to make contacts.

The University is committed to growth in income and diversification of income streams. This includes commitment to the development of an employer-focused curriculum, and the role of enterprise as a profitable and sustainable income source. The Knowledge Hub plays an important role in this growth. These initiatives require professional project management support within the Knowledge Hub. The particular emphasis for these two posts is on supporting public-sector orientated CPD (for example emanating from the University's Faculty of Health and Social Science and Business School) and on a broad range of other activity benefiting public sector clients; and emphasis on supporting commercially driven private sector client projects.

Due to UK Border Agency policy changes on immigration, we can only accept applications from Non EEA candidates who hold Tier 1 status and are able to work and reside in the UK with no restrictions or sponsorship of an employer required.

To apply please download an application form from our website: www.beds.ac.uk/jobs

No Agencies.

Please note CVs will only be accepted in addition to a fully completed application form.

Closing date: 12 noon 14 January 2013.

Interviews: 23 January 2013.

The University is committed to equality of opportunity and values the diversity of all its workforce and student population.

Ref: NARE4115
Grade 6, £24,520 pro rata per annum
Part-time, 0.5fte
Permanent
Luton (Putteridge Bury Campus)

The Knowledge Hub is the University of Bedfordshire's gateway to business support services, offering organisations of all sizes the chance to develop and grow. High quality training and development is at the heart of what we do – delivering short courses, professional development programmes and bespoke courses. We're an accredited training organisation for PRINCE 2, Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development, CompTIA and the Chartered Management Institute.

We also provide consultancy services and business networking, giving businesses access to our leading applied research.

By working with business, the public sector and social enterprises across the South East Midlands, the Knowledge Hub helps organisations become more innovative and achieve sustainable growth.

Our range of services includes:

- business growth support including projects and funding from Europe and central and local Government
- enterprise services, including Intellectual Property advice and business mentoring
- support for start-ups and new business ideas, such as the acclaimed 'Basics of Building a Business' series – offering entrepreneurs the chance to learn essential from business practitioners.
- experts and researchers at the University delivering expertise through consultancy
- first class conference venue and conference organising services
- easy access to state-of-the-art facilities from confocal microscopes to media production studios
- access to high-calibre graduates through the short term placements and cutting-edge research
- a business networking group, the Knowledge Network, for coverage of the latest developments in business, science and computer technology and excellent opportunities to make contacts.

We are looking for someone to provide sales and recruitment support for all activities within the Knowledge Hub (and more widely within the Research and Enterprise Directorate when needed).

Due to UK Border Agency policy changes on immigration, we can only accept applications from Non EEA candidates who hold Tier 1 status and are able to work and reside in the UK with no restrictions or sponsorship of an employer required.

To apply please download an application form from our website: www.beds.ac.uk/jobs

HOME SAFETY CENTRE MANAGER
BASED AT STUDLEY ROAD, LUTON (SOUTHERN AREA OFFICE)
£24,646 per annum. Hours: 37 per week (Flexitime)

This post will be responsible for identifying, developing and implementing the delivery of home fire safety education programmes for the communities of Bedfordshire at the Home Safety Centre, based at Luton Fire Station, in order to reduce the risk of fires in the home and consequent deaths and injuries.

You must have numeracy and literacy qualifications to GCSE Grade C or equivalent work experience, and previous experience of working in a teacher/trainer or home safety environment. You must be able to demonstrate a high standard of oral and written communication and interpersonal skills with a wide range of individuals. You must also understand and be enthusiastic towards home safety issues, demonstrate effective skills in the delivery of training packages, and have management/supervisory experience.

The above post will involve lone working and you will therefore need to comply with the personal safety guidance instruction. A current driving licence with no issues pending is also a requirement for the post.

AREA COMMUNITY SAFETY OFFICER (HOME/OTHER RISKS)
2 posts available - £24,646 per annum:
• 1 permanent based at Luton
• 1 fixed term for 12 months (with the possibility of becoming permanent) based at Bedford

Working 37 hours per week, the successful candidates will plan and deliver Community Safety Programmes and campaigns at area and station level to provide support to Area and Station Commanders in implementing the Service's Community Safety Strategies, policies and plans.

You will be required to utilise information regarding the incidence of accidental fires and road traffic collisions within the area in order to identify the needs and opportunities for reduction initiatives and the targeting of resources from the Service and other agencies and groups where appropriate.

Applicants must have numeracy and literacy to GCSE Grade C or equivalent and a recognised training qualification. You must also hold a full UK driving licence with no pending issues.

You must have worked within an organisation working with community groups, and had experience in involvement with project work for production of reports and the development of new procedures. Applicants must also have the ability to communicate with a wide range of individuals and agencies and be able to work in a methodical manner without close supervision.

Completed application forms must be returned by 12 noon, 25th January 2013

An application form, job description and personnel specification, together with other relevant details may be obtained from www.bedsfire.com where the advertisement will be published under 'Careers and Recruitment'. Alternatively, if you are unable to access a computer, please contact the Human Resources Section on 01234 845025.

For all the above posts: The successful candidate will be required to have Criminal Records Bureau Clearance. There is a requirement for Corporate Wear to be worn.

THE LUTON BOROUGH COUNCIL (STATION HOUSE, MIDLAND ROAD) COMPULSORY PURCHASE ORDER 2011
Notice of Confirmation
The Highways Act 1980 and the Acquisition of Land Act 1981
1 Notice is hereby given that the Secretary of State for Transport, in exercise of his powers under the above Acts, on 2 January 2013 confirmed with modifications the Luton Borough Council (Station House, Midland Road) Compulsory Purchase Order 2011 submitted by Luton Borough Council.
2 The order as confirmed provides for the purchase of the land and the new rights described in the Schedule below for the purposes of (1) the improvement of the highway around Station House and the access route from High Town to Luton Station, and (2) use by the highway authority in connection with the construction and improvement of the highway and the provision of a new means of access to Station House.
A copy of the order as confirmed by the Secretary of State and of the map it refers to may be seen between 9am and 5pm Monday to Friday at Luton Borough Council Legal Services, Second Floor, 2-12 Victoria Street, Luton, LU1 2UA. Copies may be requested by e-mail at john.secker@luton.gov.uk
The order as confirmed becomes operative on the date on which this notice is first published. A person aggrieved by the order may, by application to the High Court within 6 weeks from that date, challenge its validity under section 23 of the Acquisition of Land Act 1981. The grounds for challenge can be that the authorisation granted by the order is not empowered to be granted or that there has been a failure to comply with any relevant statutory requirement relating to the order.
SCHEDULE OF LAND AND THE NEW RIGHTS
127.55 square metres of land along the highway frontage of Station House
The right to build a boundary wall, carry out landscaping and lay out access to existing car parking spaces on a further 98.03 square metres of land at Station House
Dated 6 January 2013

OPEN TO CHANGE

The British have an irrational love of convertible cars. Just look at how many of them there are on the roads then at our average rainfall figures and you'll have all the evidence you need of that. Peugeot has tapped into this yearning for wind-in-the-hair travel more successfully than most manufacturers with its range of affordable folding hard-top models and today's 207CC is aiming to fight off competition from a number of pretenders to its throne.

You'd better like 1.6-litre engines because the 207CC has three of them and that's as far as the choice goes. At least there's some decent variety within this outwardly samey line-up. The entry-level petrol engine is a 120bhp normally-aspirated 1.6-litre designed in partnership with BMW no less. This is the engine that will rack up most sales and the only one on offer with automatic transmission. It's also a variant of the next engine in the line-up, the 150bhp turbo 1.6, albeit shorn of the turbocharger. Nevertheless it still looks quite punchy, delivering its maximum power at 6,000rpm and its peak torque figure of 163Nm at 4,250rpm. The 150bhp turbocharged variant gets THP (turbo high pressure) branding and features a beefy peak torque figure of 244Nm from only 1,400rpm.

The twin scroll turbo and variable valve timing system combines with direct injection to offer a decent compromise between performance and fuel economy. Finally, there's a 1.6-litre HDi diesel with 110bhp and identical torque to the turbocharged petrol unit. Peugeot has tweaked the look of today's 207CC, toning down the sometimes controversial front end styling that has been rolled out across its model range in recent years. The lines are better integrated around the nose but the main point of reference is that the fog lights which were mounted on the edge of the enormous grille are now housed in their own cutaway sections on either side. At the rear, LED taillights are an upmarket touch but visually, the overall feel of the car isn't dramatically different. The styling is still markedly more cohesive with the roof down than when it's up. A retractable metal roof makes packaging a nightmare and although the 207CC copes as well as any hard-top convertible of this size, rear legroom is still in short supply. The boot is just 187 litres with the roof down but on the plus side, there's ample space for front seat occupants and holding a button down for 25 seconds is enough to raise or lower the canopy.

Sport and GT trim levels are available, with the Sport getting 16" alloy wheels, air-conditioning, remote central locking and electric windows with full one-touch operation of the driver's window. There's also ABS brakes with brakeforce distribution and brake assist. For a premium of around £1,500, the GT model adds 17" alloy wheels, ESP stability control and a number of other features. A five speed manual gearbox comes as standard but there's a four-speed auto available with the non-turbo petrol engine. Peugeot is a big name in the affordable convertible market and is intent on keeping things that way. Today's 207CC makes ownership of a small open-top car a refreshingly stress free proposition and does so in a package that now has a little extra visual identity, something that could be crucial to fashion-conscious buyers.

There are obvious drawbacks associated with installing a folding metal roof within a supermini chassis but the 207 manages this as well or better than most of its rivals.

Hobbs kicks late conversion to seal dramatic Luton win

RUGBY UNION

BY TIM BARTLETT
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

LUTON narrowly defeated Ruislip 21-19 at Newlands Road, starting the New Year in winning ways following the three straight defeats they had suffered at the end of last year.

Luton beat Ruislip 31-17 in the reverse fixture back in September, but were unable to assert themselves to such affect yesterday and need a last-gasp conversion from Rik Hobbs to clinch victory.

A Tesh Edwards try and two Rik Hobbs penalties saw the home side trailing 14-11 at the break in this London 1 North league meeting, against a team four places, and 19 points below them in the league.

Hobbs kicked a second-half penalty to level things up before the visitors went over to go five points ahead with time running out for the home side.

With minutes remaining Edwards pounced on a loose ball, and put Dan Blinkhorn in to smash through to level things up at 19-19.

Step forward Hobbs for the last play of the game, a conversion he kicked sweetly through the centre of the posts to secure the points for Luton.

"This was a must-win game for us, and one we needed, to prove we are a top five team," said Luton's director of rugby Paul Allan.

"We're not particularly happy with the performance, but the result was key."

Stockwood Park defeated Bedford Queens at London Road yesterday 27-10 in a fixture that had seen Stockwood Park beaten 33-24 back in September when the sides last met.

Jason Carr kicked the home side ahead with an early penalty, but were soon behind to a Queens try, trailing 7-3 at the interval.

Queens were awarded a penalty midway through the second half as Stockwood Park were penalised for off-side, pushing the home side further behind, now trailing 10-3.

Stockwood Park's number 8 Ben Griffen responded quickest to a loose ball minute later, crashing over to score, and with the conversion successfully kicked by Carr, the scores were tied 10-10 with 15 minutes on the clock.

A sustained spell of pressure from Stockwood Park resulted in Casey Waterfield going over to score following some excellent rucking and mauling.

Ben Griffen scored the pick of the afternoon's tries, which Carr converted points to, before James Peddar rounded off the afternoon perfectly for the home side by getting on the end of his own kick and go over to secure the bonus point.

Dunstablians sit second in the league after a 30-7 victory over Vipers in a Midlands 2 (East) clash.

Club captain Stuart Calder, opened the scoring for the Dees's driving over from close range.

Joe Murphy added a second before the interval, running in from the wing on his return from injury.

Murphy also kicked with confidence all afternoon, securing points from three conversions and each of the three penalties he kicked.

Dunstablians lead 20-0 at the interval and added a third try after the break thanks to Calder showing a clean set of heels to a demoralised Vipers defence late on, completing a successful day for the Dees, who had not played for four weeks prior to this weekend due to game cancellations.

"We were a bit rusty, but we've been out of action for a few weeks, so it's no surprise," Simon George, Dunstablians front row, said.

"It's just good to get back out there and get back to winning ways.

"Their forwards have a big reputation in the scrum, but we took them apart. They gave us a few problems when rucking and mauling."

LUTON Town's season will be judged by their ability to secure promotion but this victory over Wolves will live long in the memory of Hatters fans.

Pitched against a side 59 places above them in the football pyramid and coming on the back of a morale-crushing defeat to Woking, Luton left Kenilworth Road rocking with a thoroughly deserved win over a side who were in the Premier League last season. Alex Lawless scored the only goal of the game to send Luton through to the fourth round for the first time in six years and continue Buckle's impressive record in the competition.

He has reached the third round five years in succession only to be knocked out by Midlands opposition last year, with Bristol Rovers, and in 2009 with Torquay. It proved to be third time lucky this year for the manager who had come under fire after the Woking defeat.

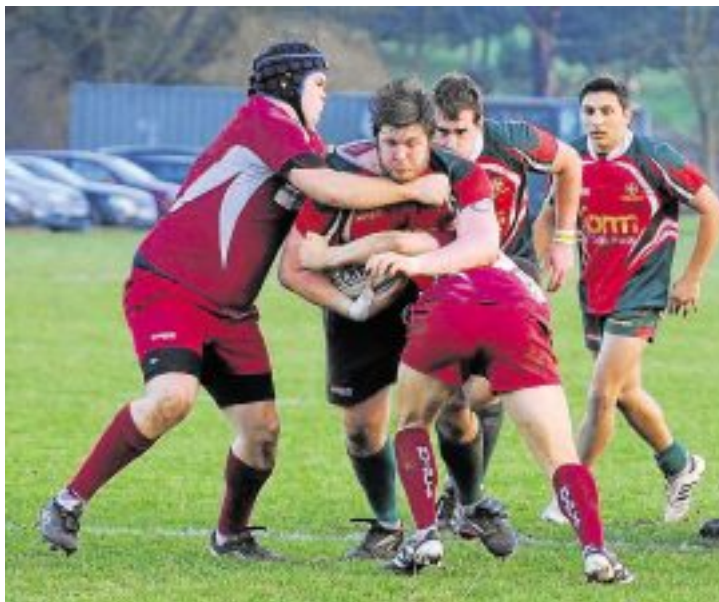

Both sides started the new year with respective 3-1 losses but it was the visitors who felt the pressure, languishing in 18th in the Championship after three straight defeats. Nevertheless, the modern-day Luton are in stark contrast to the side that last played Wolves back in 2006/07. Buckle, however, was well aware of the perils his counterpart faced in being confronted by lower-league opposition, having sneaked passed Dorchester Town in the previous round.

This had all the ingredients of an upset and Buckle sent his side out with the bit between their teeth.

Buckle's high-pressing tactic almost paid off just past five minutes as JJ O'Donnell drove a tough edge-of-the-area volley clean over Carl Ikeme's bar to a rapture of noise from the stands.

LUTON Town could turn their attention to Ross Hannah, the Bradford City striker, after they announced they have cooled their interest in AFC Wimbledon striker Christian Jolley.

The Hatters were given permission to speak to Jolley, the 24-year-old forward, but they appear to have been frustrated by the time it has taken the player to make up his mind amid interest from other clubs.

"The Town officially ended their pursuit of AFC Wimbledon striker Christian Jolley, who will not be making a move to Kenilworth Road after the club withdrew its interest in the player," read a statement from the club.

Manager Paul Buckle is a known admirer of Hannah, right, who scored nine goals in 14 games on loan at Grimsby where he linked up well with new Luton recruit Scott Neilson.

A centre-half is also on Buckle's shopping list as he bids to shore up a defence which has conceded as many league goals this season as 16th place Tamworth. Former Hatter George Pilkington and Nathan Pond are possible options.

"Sometimes players are reluctant to drop out [of the league]," Buckle said. "So you have to sell it to them. We've got three or four players we're looking at."

afford to let their concentration levels drop for even a split second but Kevin Doyle should have punished the home side immediately following O'Donnell's miss, collecting a route-one ball after peeling off his man but spurning his opportunity wide when face-to-face with Mark Tyler.

The hosts should have heeded his warning, though, but they did not and were lucky when the poacher fell over in the six-yard box during an overhead-kick attempt.

The home crowd knew they had a lethal forward of their own in ex-Wolves schoolboy Andre Gray, who constantly threatened the Wolves defence. His final product was slightly lacking, however.

First, in the 22nd minute, he allowed Carl Ikeme to charge out and smother a one-on-one after Roger Johnson's mis-timed header fell to the feet of the forward.

Three minutes later, the 21-year-old made his way to the byline and utilised a burst of pace to cut inside but fire high and wide when a more-controlled sidefoot seemed the clearer option.

Wolves, though, should have gone in at half time with the lead. Midfielder Anthony Forde mis-kicked from the edge of the area when faced with just one defender and the Luton goalkeeper.

Tyler was forced into two smart saves in the space of two late first-half minutes, first tipping onto the bar after a scramble in the six-yard area, before blocking brilliantly from Bakary Sako's ten-yard shot.

The half-time break worked wonders for Buckle's side as Lawless began proceedings in the perfect fashion, volleying home a half-cleared cross from 18 yards within a minute.

If Solbakken thought his Wolves side had already hit "rock bottom" before the trip to Luton, he clearly had not counted on what was to come.

The goal put the underdogs well into the ascendancy, as Kenilworth Road reverberated to chants of "Wembley".

The Hatters could have extended their lead four minutes later but their first-half profligacy made an unwelcome return as O'Donnell's shot sailed into the stands. O'Donnell's match was cut short on 70 minutes when he was taken from the field with a broken nose.

But even that failed to disrupt Luton's rhythm, although it did take Tyler to tip over Jamie O'Hara's long-range strike midway through nine minutes of stoppage time.

Luton Town: Tyler; Kovacs, Rowe-Turner, Henry, Taylor; Mendy, Smith, Lawless, O'Donnell (Stuart Fleetwood 77); Shaw, Andre Gray (Rendell 90)

Wolverhampton Wanderers: Ikeme; Johnson, Berra, Foley (Davis 75); Ward, Henry, Jamie O'Hara, Forde (Peszko 67); Sako; Ebanks-Blake, Doyle (Jake Cassidy 67)

New boy Leach sucks life out of Hillingdon

FOOTBALL ROUND-UP

BY JONATHAN PAXTON
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

DUNSTABLE Town smashed five goals without reply past a beleaguered Hillingdon Borough to stay top of the South Midlands League Premier Division

Hillingdon did well to hold back the league leaders early on and it was not until the 41st minute that Tony Burnett volleyed Dunstable into a 1-0 lead.

The second half saw a flurry of goals with new signing from Hemel Hempstead Mark Leach making it 2-0 on his debut on 50 minutes and Nathan Frater adding a third a minute later.

Top scorer Lee Roache was fouled in the 67th minute to win a penalty which Newman Carney converted with a cheeky chip to make it 4-0.

The scoring was wrapped up in the 77th minute by Anthony Fontanelle, returning to the club after signing from Hitchin in mid-week, meaning the undefeated Blues now go nine points clear at the top of the table. Barton Rovers' run of six consecutive home wins came to a crashing halt as Burnham ran out 6-1 victors in the Evo Stik Division One Central Division.

Rovers went behind as early as the fifth minute when Dobson scored for Burnham but Jermaine Hall capitalised on a goalkeeping mistake to equalise on 10 minutes.

Rovers began to dictate play but a Ryan Bird goal against the run of play just before the break gave Burnham the lead at half-time.

The second half was one to forget for Barton as four goals were conceded to give Dan Kennoy's men a poor start to 2013.

Crawley Green moved to the top of the South Midlands League Division One, holding on for a 1-0 win in a tight game at Bedford.

Crawley had the better of the first half and took the lead when Chris Gibson set up Adam Reid for a left foot finish in the 28th minute.

The visitors had to defend resolutely in the second half as Bedford hit the woodwork three times but were unable grab an equaliser.

Gray staying put ... for now at least

FOOTBALL

BY KEVIN AFFLECK
kevin.affleck@lsnmedia.co.uk

ANDRE Gray has signalled his intention to play his trade at the highest possible level but feels this month would not be the right time to move as he is focussed on winning promotion with Luton Town.

But amid interest from Peterborough, who have a history of plucking forwards from the lower leagues, both the striker and managing director Gary Sweet have left the door open for a transfer this month should the right bid be tabled.

"My agent already knows I don't want to go in January, I don't think," said Gray while Sweet told another newspaper he would "sit down" if a Championship club came "knocking on the door" as "we don't want to hold players back."

Luton signed Gray, 21, for £30,000 from Hinckley United in the summer and his value is likely to have increased ten fold following 12 goals in 32 appearances, including six in his last six games.

"I want to go as high as I can," Gray said. "But I don't want to get ahead of myself as I'm here for a reason. I'll still keep working hard and hopefully achieve that one day."

"I've seen the speculation get to some players thinking they are going to get somewhere. I don't listen to it and I just want to get promoted with Luton."

Gray says he has told his agent he is not looking to move this month.

"My desire is to play in the Championship or Premier League," Gray said. "Unless an opportunity like that comes along I wouldn't leave. I want to get promoted with this club. I've got the right understanding [with my agent]. I want to let my football do the talking."

JUMPING FOR JOY: Alex Lawless celebrates his second-half winner against Wolves

'Cup win is a proud moment'

BY LUKE PETERSON
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

LUTON TOWN boss Paul Buckle wants to be drawn against a Premier League side after making it through to the fourth round of the FA Cup for the first time since 2007.

The Hatters saw off Championship opposition in the shape of Wolverhampton Wanderers yesterday with a hard-fought 1-0 win.

"It's great for the profile of the club," Buckle said.

"Anybody here would be fantastic but if we can get a Premiership club I'd dearly love it."

Buckle believes the cup run can have a knock-on effect on the team's league form.

"We've been in this division for four seasons," said Buckle. "I'm looking for the magic wand that's going to get us into the Football League."

The Hatters come back down to earth against Barrow on Tuesday night but Buckle is keen to bask in the glory of the stunning win.

"It's such a proud moment,"

Buckle said. "It was an absolute pleasure to manage Luton today. It was lovely to get the draw but it's fantastic to go through."

Alex Lawless scored the only goal of the game in the 46th minute, and he wants to be drawn against Sir Alex Ferguson's team.

"Luton have a great following but it's the fact it continues that is so impressive," Lawless said, "It's nice to give the fans something to smile about. I'm a Manchester United support so them away I'd prefer."
